WESTERLY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Presented Autumn Leaf Album Made in 1851—Extending Water System to Pleasant View—Portrait of Past Commander Delevan for Budlong Post—Hope Valley Gunner Held in $800 Bonds.

The Westerly public library has perhaps the finest album of preserved autumn leaves in the country, just received from Mrs. W. Lyman Greene of Dorchester, Mass. The title page of pen and ink, in colors, reads:

"Collection of American Autumn Leaves, prepared and arranged by Miriam de Bonnaville, Westerly, 1851. Bound by Matthews and Rider, New York."

Several pages are beautifully engraved with poems and prose relating to the subject. The autumn leaves are artistically arranged and almost perfectly preserved.

The album is 17x14x3 inches in size, elegantly bound in maroon velvet, with gold corners and clasps. In the center of the cover is a gold plate which is inscribed: "American Autumnal Leaves."

Although made 58 years ago, the album and its contents bear no signs of age, showing that the greatest care has been taken in its preservation. The valuable collection is not placed on public exhibition, but will be gladly shown to all who request the pleasure of the public library.

Miriam de Bonnaville, in her introductory letter, Westerly, Feb. 3, 1851, writes: "In the preparation of this collection I have constantly kept in view the retention of the exact coloring of the leaves, as they were when plucked from the tree. In a few instances their color is slightly diminished, but I have preferred saving them with only the lines of Nature's own cunning hand, than to make any attempt at repairing them."

"Wherever I have attempted to group the leaves, it has been with the desire of showing somewhat the varied effects of the colors as we see them from a distance in the groves."

The collection was exhibited in London at the Crystal Palace exposition in 1851 and in Paris in 1855. Mrs. Greene, donor of the album to the library, is a sister of Representative Albert H. Langworthy of Westerly.

The water department is now negotiating for the pipes to be used in the extension of the water system to Pleasant View, which will be built by the department of works. The increased number of workmen. Effort is being made to have the pipe sent by water and landed at Avondale, a wharf would greatly reduce the cost of the material. It landed at Avondale the shortest haul would be about a mile, and the longest three miles, as the extension is to be about two miles. It is expected that the actual work will begin within a fortnight, as it is planned to have the extension completed by June 1.

Supt. McKenzie will have direct charge of the work, the only contract in the building being for the cartage of the pipe to the trench sides. "Contracts have been given by the town of Westerly, where the town furnished the material, paid the bills and handled the balance of the contract price to the contractor. In this instance the water works department will do the work, pay the bills and save the profit to the town, instead of paying the same to a contractor."

Pitcher McGinnity, "The Iron Man."

The many uses of Gold Dust

If you were to use for each kind of washing, cleaning, scouring and scrubbing, one of the so-called special preparations which are made, you would have an imposing and expensive array of chemicals, washing compounds, cleaning pastes, etc.

There is one cleaner that can take the place of them all, and without the need of borax, ammonia, kerosene or naphtha, and that is Gold Dust.

now of the Newark baseball team of the Eastern league, says: "Jack Prill, the Westerly pitcher, should be in big leagues right soon." Prill is with the Newarks again this season, and in the game with the New York Americans Monday, at Millersville, Pa., in which the Newarks won 8 to 6, he pitched for three innings, McGinnity handling the ball in the other six.

Prill gave a better ball, struck out two, pitched two hits and one run. McGinnity passed one, struck out three, was hit six times and permitted three runs.

Jack Prill was formerly stationed at Fort Mansfield, where he served two enlistments in the regular army, and became well known in Westerly as a baseball player. After his discharge he made his home in Westerly, and spends the winter season in the Potter Hill section of the town, keeping in prime condition by manual labor, sawing and chopping wood being a favorite exercise.

Budlong Post, Westerly, Grand Army of the Republic, had a large portrait made of the late John Delevan, the founder and a past commander of the post. The portrait has been framed and will be placed in the post room. By special request the portrait will be on exhibition in the show window at Woodman's.

Enoch Jeru, who shot his brother-in-law, Elmer Wright, in the head, after a quarrel at the home of Mrs. Wright, was arrested Monday. He was arraigned before Justice George H. Olney, charged with an assault with a shotgun, loaded with powder and shot. He pleaded not guilty and furnished bonds of $800 for his appearance in the Third district court in Hope Valley.

BARN BURNED

At West Woodstock—Result of Grass Fire.

The Bulletin's West Woodstock correspondent writes: A barn belonging to W. Z. Clark, standing near the Mike Smith place, was totally destroyed by fire Monday afternoon, together with four tons of hay which was stored there. The fire started in the grass a long distance from the barn, but owing to the high wind its progress could not be stopped in time to save the barn. Another barn on the old Johnson place, now owned by Frank River, was found burning in two places, but by heroic efforts the blaze was put out when within two feet of the hay-mow.
